POLICE PROCEEDINGS.—Tuesday, December 29.
The case of Isaac Duckwall, charged with causing the death of Charles Bull, was called up first.
The defense waived an examination, and the accused was committed to answer.

Alexander Bolen, killing Warner Sage. Dr. Goldsmith stated that the scalp of Sage was cut through in three places. The wounds had the appearance of having been inflicted by an instrument called brass knuckles. Dr. Buchanan, the coroner, went into a detail of the post mortem examination.

Charles Tull, the son of the proprietor of the Commercial Hotel, where the affray occurred, testified that Bolen and Sage were friends as far as he knew.
Both were in liquor. They commenced sparring in fun; Bolen struck Sage, and Sage then struck Bolen on the chin. Sage made some apology for it, and asked Bolen to shake hands with him. The latter refused, and witness stepped between them to prevent a difficulty. Bolen then told Sage not to say anything more about it. The two sat down, and Sage offered Bolen his hand again. Bolen held out his left hand, which Sage refused to take. Bolen told Sage he could take it or not. Bolen then put his right hand in his pocket; Sage told Bolen not to draw any pistol on him, and struck him, and the two clinched.
Witness shoved both of them out of the door and slut it, and in a minute or two heard his name called, and supposed it to be Bolen. He stepped out of doors and found Sage lying on the top of Bolen on the sidewalk. He parted them; Bolen started down to the boat on which he was mate, and Sage was taken into the house. Both were bloody; witness and others washed the blood off Sage's head and face and dressed his wounds, and he then went to bed.
The time when the affray occurred was between 8 and 9 o'clock on Thursday night. Sage's condition was found to be very dangerous on the following day, and, by advice of a physician, Mr. Tull, Sr., the proprietor of the house, had him removed to the hospital, where he died on Friday night. Witness saw no weapon in Bolen's possession. He heard something fall on the sidewalk, but did not know what it was. Witness was the only person who saw the affray. The Court committed Bolen to answer a charge of murder.

The examination of the parties concerned in the assault on Mr. Lavielle was then gone into. His physician testified that he did not consider him out of danger.

GRATIFYING NEWS TO TRAVELERS SOUTH.— Those going South and were not ready to start today will be glad to learn that the R. J. Ward will not leave until to-morrow, and those that were ready to leave on her to day have a day longer to anticipate the delightful pleasures they will enjoy on that river palace. Her gallant commander informs us that she will go to-morrow sure, rain or shine.

The Virginia.—This splendid steamer has arrived, and we thank Mr. W. H. Armstrong, her energetic clerk, for New Orleans papers of the evening of the 29th and copies of the manifest and memorandum.
We have only to mention that the Virginia is still in charge of that courteous and popular officer, Captain Chas. F. Reynolds to secure for her a full complement of passengers. She will leave to-morrow evening.

The Rochester Murder Case.—By the Rochester Herald we learn that Mrs. Little (the wife of the murdered man, and who is suspected of committing the deed, with the help of her brother, Ira Stout), "confessed to Chief of Police Olviatt that Ira told her when he came home, on Saturday night, that she would never see Charley again—that he had knocked him on the head with his cane!"

The Herald says: "Mrs. Little was consulted about the matter, and said that if Ira was a man he would tell all about it. Ira revealed enough to show that others were concerned in the murder, and partly promised to give the names of the persons this morning."

The Indianapolis papers announce the death of Major Alex. P. Morrison, a prominent citizen and an able politician. He served for several years in the Legislature, was a member of the Indiana constitutional convention, and an officer in the Mexican war. His disease was consumption.

A fatal affray occurred at Princeton, Ind., on Thursday evening last, in which Samuel Zimmerman, a hotel keeper, and a man named Cox quarreled about a trifling sum of money, which the former alleged had been stolen from him by the latter.
The altercation was brought to a close by Cox throwing a brickbat at the head of Zimmerman, which hit him in the head, fractured his skull, and caused his death in about two hours. Cox gave himself up and is now in custody awaiting his trial.
Zimmerman was a man of violent, quarrelsome passions, and during the affray threw a glass tumbler at Cox, and had two weights in his hands to throw at Cox when he was hit himself. Cox is a man very much like his antagonist, and the community suffers but little in the death of one and the incarceration of the other.

The Lafayette Courier reports the death of an engineer on the N. A. & S. R. R., on Christmas, by the accidental discharge of a gun which he was pulling into a wagon after returning from a hunting excursion. The charge entered his throat, and penetrated to his brain, killing him instantly.

The Lafayette (Ind.) Journal says that two Irishmen got into a difficulty at Greencastle on Christmas Eve, in which one stabbed the other with a chisel, killing him instantly.

Counterfeiting Tools.—A box, supposed to contain counterfeiting implements, was taken from the Washington V. & N. on Saturday. It had been shipped from this city to Toledo, Ill. It will be examined to-day. It belongs to a fellow by the name of Shears. He is supposed to have gone ahead, as he is missing.—Lafayette Journal.

ATTENTION, AMERICANS OF THE THIRD AND FOURTH WARD.—You are hereby notified that a meeting of the Councils of the above named wards will be held in their Council-chamber, Odd Fellows' Building, on Thursday evening, 31st inst., at 7 P.
M. Matters of interest and a speech will be presented. Members of other Councils are invited

BY TELEGRAPH.

Reported for the Evening Bulletin.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 28.

The instructions to Com. Paulding were necessary general in their nature, it being impossible for Government to anticipate every state of circumstances, and not until his official dispatches shall have been considered will it be determined whether or not he was justified in Gen. Walker's arrest.

The Herald's Washington correspondent says it is stated that Com. Paulding acted without instructions in his demonstration against the filibusters, the only orders issued being simply those promulgated some time since to all officers of the federal government to prevent infractions of the neutrality laws.

It is furthermore stated that the administration will disclaim and disapprove of the conduct of the Commodore, and that he will be held to strict accountability. It was not anticipated that any attempt would be made to arrest Walker on land, the act being a violation of the international law; but, as the administration is without any information on the subject, nothing can be known as to their views until they receive official dispatches, which will reach here to-morrow (Tuesday).

The Times' correspondent at a Secretary Cass (commander of Walker and his men by Com. Paulding, as illegal, inexorable and unjustified. Com. Paulding will doubtless be court-martialled immediately. Walker's friends express their conviction that Com. Paulding acted under secret instructions. In proof of this they cite the fact that it has been repeatedly predicted that England and the United States would pursue him upon Nicaraguan soil. Nevertheless the Administration positively denounces Paulding's course, denying that it was even anticipated. The Administration is very emphatic in regarding the action of Com.
Paulding, and denounces it as a violation of the sovereignty of Nicaragua, and of the American Constitution. Our power over the filibuster, it is held, ceased the moment they had entered upon the jurisdiction of a foreign power.

There is no doubt that Com. Paulding will be at once ordered home for trial. The Southern men are very violent in their denunciation of Paulding, denying his right to decide that Walker is a citizen of the United States, and claiming it to be the duty of the Government to send him and his men back in a national vessel.

A mass meeting was held at Jayne's hall this evening to endorse the Paulding message, especially that part recommending the speedy admission of Kansas as a State under the constitution formed in pursuance of lawful authority. It was resolved that we are perfectly satisfied that President Buchanan has not and cannot have no other design in the discharge of his functions but the true interest, honor, and dignity of the Union; that his abilities have been proved to be of the most distinguished order, his character eminently conservative, and his counsels wise.

Resolved, That the Government of the United States is a government of delegated power; that within the limits of its functions it is the supreme, the sovereign power of the land, and the idea that this supreme power can be properly overruled in its exercise either by those from whom it is delegated or those for whose government such power may be exercised, is a heresy dangerous to the perpetuity of our civil institutions and to constitutional liberty, and tend to create confusion and anarchy in any condition of organized government.

Resolved, That it is equally true that in all matters not included within the grant of power to the Federal Government the rights of absolute sovereignty are referred to the States respectively and the people thereof, and that any interference on the part of the General Government with powers not expressly granted is inexpedient and dangerous and should be discontinued by the Democratic party no less as a violation of the reserved rights of the States as would be the attempt on the part of any of the States or people thereof, except in due form of law, to interfere with the right exercise of powers expressly granted to the General Government; that it is manifest that any constitution which the ingenuity of man could have devised, even the Tocqueville Constitution, presented to the Republican party, they would have voted against it; because, their object being not to settle the question, preferring to destroy the interests of the Territory for the purpose of keeping up agitation on the slave question throughout the States of the Union until the next Presidential election.

There was a large audience, but comparatively little enthusiasm. Ex-Chief Justice Ellis Lewis, on taking the chair, explained the purpose of the meeting. W. H. Witte, of Pennsylvania, argued that the object of the Administration was to let the people settle their own affairs. There was no charge of illegality when the Convention was elected, only many refused to vote, which was their own fault. If the President had marked out any other course in his message the true Democracy would then charge him either with neglecting his duty or oversteering his authority. He referred to Mr. Douglas's attack on the Kansas portion of the message immediately after its reading, without deliberation.

Here the speaker was interrupted by a cry for three cheers for Douglas, which caused great applause, followed by hisses, and the attempted ejection of the person who proposed the cheers. After three cheers for Buchanan, Mr. Witte continued.
He said that Mr. Douglas had arraigned the President in no very respectful manner, and argued that the people of Kansas should be allowed to manage their affairs in their own way. The way chosen was the Lecompton Convention. He had learned on good authority that the Toombs bill was submitted to the Committee on Territories with the enabling act, and discussed, when it was put in the hands of Mr. Douglas over night. The next day it was submitted to Congress with the act stricken out. The alleged friendship of Mr. Douglas and others was dangerous. He read no man out of the party, but when his actions cause smiles of favor from the opposition, the door being open, no one could prevent him from leaving himself.
